

We must preserve media diversity to keep our rights to a free press, and not have ownership of various media consolidated in the hands of a few.